STELLAR HEALING

Holistic Astrology and Astral-Geo Therapy STARLOGIC ASTRODYNAMICS AND STELLAR HEALING

A question often posed by a client is, “What does my chart reveal about my health?”

Health Astrology is a sub division of Medical Astrology that embraces a homeopathic and holistic view. An individual natal chart reveals certain predisposition for “dis-ease” that has the propensity to develop over a lifetime. Environmental factors, improper diet, or simply a lack of knowledge regarding possible deficiencies can all contribute to the onset of health problems. A natal chart actually yields a nutritional plan specific to the native by indicating the need for minerals and vitamins that can be beneficially instrumental in maintaining a healthy body.

The association between bodily illness and the signs and planets of the Zodiac belong to the Hermetic Theory which is an ancient Egyptian/Greek philosophical science. Hermetic Theory is based on the premise that the entire Cosmos is reflected in each human being. In this system, the signs and degrees of the Zodiac correlate to human anatomy and the planets to the physical and chemical processes and to specific organ malfunction and vitamin and mineral deficiencies. The Uranian planets, Hades, Admetos, Appollon, and applicable Fixed Stars are also used in analysis. Aspects made between the planets and certain points in the natal chart act as strength and weakness indicators.

Aspects made by planetary transits, progressions, and directions to the planets and midpoints the natal chart calculated for a specific time period are useful in the analysis of “health triggers” which may adversely affect health during the calculated period. This is known as a Health Chapter. A Health Chapter serves as a holistic record and review of current health status and progress which can be vital to health maintenance.

Ancient Stellar Healing is thought to predate Egyptian and Biblical times. From archeological Earth records of the work of the ancient Egyptian Akhenaten, we know that the healers of ancient Egypt engaged Stellar Healing which used medical information from astrology charts, light, color, sound/tones and hands on energy transference to heal others. Today, in the modern version of Stellar Healing know as Astral Geo Therapy™, the same method is followed but the use of stones and crystals replaces the hands on energy transference so the ‘healee’ gets the full benefit of natural Earth energies without the interference of a human conduit. Astral-Geo Therapy is the modern offshoot of ancient Stellar Healing embraces Hermetic Theory combining use of the diagnostic Astrological Health Chapter with tuning, Aura Soma color therapy and natural Earth crystals.

The prerequisite for color is fulfilled through use of Aura Soma. What is Aura Soma? It is a color energy system that provides a gentle vibration to help an individual penetrate his/her own levels of awareness to uncover deep sources of personal healing. For more information on Aura Soma: www.aura-soma.net.

The prerequisite for sound is fulfilled through use of tuning forks which are “keyed” to the vibrational tone of each planet. All of the planets emit their own tone and each planet has the capacity to ease or eliminate the discordant tone of another planet. How is a planet discordant? A planet that receives or makes hard aspects in a chart and/or is “discordyne” (weak transmission by posit etc.) is a potential catalyst for health issues. The tones connected to planetary vibrations come courtesy of the work of Johannes Kepler.

Astrological history is full of the genius of Johannes Kepler for it was Kepler who formulated the extraordinary laws that govern planetary motion. His work shows a mystical union of numerological and scientific thought. Like the greats before him such as Plato and Pythagoras, Kepler believed the world was ruled by numbers. It was Kepler who worked diligently to prove that the distances of the planets from the Sun coordinated with the Five Solids of Euclid. He also believed that musical harmony when mathematically expressed was the same as the harmony of the spheres (planets). He said, “I affirm and demonstrate that the movements of the planets are modulated according to harmonic proportion.” Kepler believed that each planet “sings” a harmonic tune and that by calculation involving the angle it describes in a day (as seen by the Sun) he could work out each planetary tune. Earth’s tune for example is mi-fa-mi which according to Kepler meant, “... in this our domicile misery and famine obtain.”

Musical accompaniment for the seven known planets in Kepler’s time are Sun: “D”=D-F#-A-D, Moon: “F”=F-A-C-F, Mercury: “B”=B-D#-F#-B, Venus: “E” =E-G#-B-E, Mars: “C”=C-E-G-C, Jupiter: “A”=A-C#-E-A and Saturn: “G”=G-B-D-G. In the 1940’s occultist C.C. Zain extrapolated that Uranus, Neptune and Pluto “vibrations” belonged to Divine Consciousness and the song of the Cosmos and therefore had no particular tones.

In practice, the following planetary tones will alleviate the discordant vibrations of fellow planets:

Moon relieves discordant Mars and vice versa, Mercury relieves discordant Jupiter and vice versa, Venus relieves discordant Saturn and vice versa, Mars relieves discordant Pluto, Jupiter relieves discordant Uranus, Saturn relieves discordant Neptune. The tone of the Sun brings vitality and positivity to all other planetary vibrations.

The prerequisite for “hands on” or practitioner catalyst is fulfilled via use of natural Earth Crystals. Crystals fulfilling the appropriate healing capacity are placed upon the body at specific pinpointed areas gleaned from the Health Chapter astrology map which has indicated a potential or predisposition for physical concern.

The healing energies of the Cosmos descends through planetary vibrations transmuting astral to physical while the healing energies of the Earth ascend through use of natural crystals transmitting physical to astral while tones remove discordant factors and Aura Soma promotes healing from within. The top-down bottom-up approach serves to clear dis-ease affecting positive chakra energy flow which has been blocked by discordant factors revealed via one’s natal chart and Health Chapter.

Also worth mentioning is the effect Astral Healing has in a profound spiritual sense. I have observed that in a large percentage of cases, emotional and physical trauma connected to past life issues often surfaces and is resolved during a session. As with any holistic approach, Astral-Geo Therapy recognizes the importance of nutrition and exercise integrated with attitude and spirituality working in conjunction with but never replacing competent medical advice.

The History of Stellar Healing

“Already at 16 or 17 years of age, in spite of the priests, he had introduced Stellar Art. At 19 the king decided the time was ripe to make his convictions clear to all. He therefore renounced the name Amenhotep, with its implication of obedience to Amen. And in choosing a name to take the place of the one discarded, he joined the words which expressed his religion of Life, Light and Love. Aten means light. To indicate to his subjects that he was a Brother of the Light, he called himself Akhenaten, meaning Living in the Light.” ~ Elbert Benjamine aka C.C. Zain, Hermetic Scientist, Occultist, Astrologer, Naturalist

Defying the Priests of Shadow ...

The priests of Amen had grown to be the strongest group in Egypt. They had vast holdings from levying tremendous financial tributes and with this stockpile they built magnificent temples at Luxor and Karnak. They were dark by nature and said to be influenced by the Lower-Plutonian or Lower Astral forces. Cunning and invasive, they easily compelled the people to do their bidding which including loyalty to perverse doctrines and religious ceremonies, prostitution and murder.

Akhenaten, originally known as Amenhotep IV ascended the throne at the age of 13 following the death of his father in 1375 BC. He realized from the start how totally dominated his people were with the Shadow Priests of Amen and their corrupt magical rites and rituals. The Sun God Ra was universally venerated by the public, and the dark priests ever mindful of political power cleverly joined the name of Ra to Amen so they would be sole representatives of the newly created deity Amen Ra. The young king, surrounded and guided by these priests, remained orthodox in his faith to Amen Ra until he turned 19 years old.

Spies and assassins pervaded the huge temples at Karnak and the young king knowing he could not combat the dark forces that so permeated the area decided to move the capital and take with him those who he felt were willing to learn the true power of Nature, live constructively and defy the power of the Shadow Priests. With his entourage, he sailed down from the River Thebes to a point he felt would best serve his needs about 160 miles above Cairo. There he founded the City of the Horizon. Many joined him in his quest for new spiritualism, the suppression of corruption and freedom from ignorance Akhenaten had no use for war, vengeance or fear. Egypt would be revolutionized.

“He has given to us an example three thousand years ago which might be followed at the present day; an example of what a husband and father should be, of what an honest man should do, of what a poet should feel, of what a preacher should teach, of what an artist should strive for, of what a scientist should believe, of what a philosopher should think.” ~ Arthur Weigall, Former Inspector General of Antiquities in Egypt

The Brethren of Light ...

The symbol of Ra that was worshipped in the time of Akhenaten was a gold disc representing the Sun. Akhenaten perceived something more behind the physical symbol – he perceived an all-pervading intelligence. From his studies of the rolls in the Library Tahuti, he learned and taught the constructive use of astrological knowledge. He also taught the use of art and beauty and any ennobling activity that he felt the mind could channel advantageously. Spiritually, the doctrine of hell and eternal punishment were no part of his teachings, rather, he focused on happiness during and after a given lifetime. He built a superior culture whose religion was the Religion of the Stars also known as the Devotion to Light.

Stellar Healing ...

“Among other things, he created a new art, Stellar Art, and developed a method of treatment, Stellar Healing. All the essentials of this Stellar Healing are set forth in sufficient detail in the language of symbolic pictograph in his Stellar Art, so that were there no other source of information available to us on this subject it would be possible to learn it from the many pictures he has left.” ~ C.C. Zain

The general idea or premise of Akhenaten's Stellar Healing via Zane can be summed up thus:

- Planetary energies reaching man not only map his character at birth, but exert definite influences over him, at times which can be predetermined, throughout the whole of his life. This is pictured by the rays descending to certain parts of the bodies of human beings.
- The physical environment by which he is surrounded, each item of which is also influenced by planetary energies, also exerts an influence upon man. To what extent his physical influence opposes or cooperates with the planetary energies operative at a given time must be ascertained by observation of the physical environment. This is pictured by the various objects by which human beings in the pictures are surrounded.
- The events and conditions which are present at any given time in an individual's life are the offspring of his character as it exists at the time, energized by such planetary energies as then reach it, and acting upon the available physical environment, which influences both the trend and the importance of what occurs. This is pictured by both rays and objects adjacent to human beings.
- The amount of control which an individual can exercise over what takes place in this life at a given time depends upon two factors whose relative importance constantly varies, but which on average are about of equal power: Upon his ability to energize and modify in the desired direction the factors of his character which respond to planetary energy; and upon his ability to select physical environmental conditions which offer little resistance to the events he desires.

A true Renaissance Man of Healing and Mental Alchemy...

Akhenaten was ever mindful that a diagnosis in of itself no matter how well realized, offered no help to humanity... it merely was just an indicator that a condition existed and was present. He knew that for an individual to benefit from diagnosis he must know what to do to change the condition and then do the thing which would make the indicated change. The Light or "Aten" to Akhenaten and his followers not only represented an all pervading deity but also the whole inner plane environment. All those thousands of years ago, he grasped that the inner plane and its forces can only contact the physical plane through energies travelling at the velocity of light. So, Akhenaten basically devised the system whereby the electromagnetic energies of the "healer" could be used to gather up and transmit to a patient the planetary energies as were necessary to temporarily change character or the thought structure of a patient. In essence, it was a form of mental alchemy... thought structure to enable the overcoming of afflictions.

In both diagnosis and in healing, Akhenaten gave equal weight to the influence of planets and the influence of the physical environment. He did not feel that a condition of the physical body, for example, coincident with lack of proper diet could be corrected merely by proper thinking. Nor did he believe that proper diet without a change of thinking would bring health. He did not believe that attention should only be given to the factors of one plane; but that the power of inner plane energies, such as those of thoughts and the planets, and the resistances of the physical plane, such as those exercised by people and objects should be given equal consideration. His Stellar Healing methodology modified the desires of thought cells and the resistance of the physical environment to bring about a desired outcome as well as alterations to the Soul.

Stellar Healers combine mental healing with the use of planetary energies which are permitted to flow through their bodies as a conduit to the astral form of the patient. Stellar Healers are natural healers who develop the ability through which planetary energies flow in large volume. Actual touch is not necessary because the energy flows at will. Akhenaten understood astrology and was able to discern the inner factors of disease from the horoscope of an individual and knew that energy healing could be administered specifically to cure disease and health crisis. The pictures he left us included use of color, music and thought to enable the Stellar Healer to tune in on the particular planetary energy needed.

According to Zane's interpretation:

- The electromagnetic energy of the healer which passes from his hands to the patient.
- The astral vibrations of a planet or planet, which the healer is tuned in on and which pass from his hands with the electro-magnetic energy to the thought cells of the patient.

- The thoughts and mental images in the healer's mind which direct the electromagnetic energy and planetary energy to the accomplishment of the specific healing job to be done according to disposition in the patient's chart.
- The electromagnetic energy must be guided by the astral energy.
- The healer must visualize the color of the planetary energy (ies) and saturate the body of the patient. When viewed from the Astral Plane this color is vivid and intense.
- The tonal vibrations of the planet (s) are used as musical accompaniment.

Akhenaten believed that man should control his life and destiny to the end of contributing his utmost to “Universal Welfare.” The degree of success depended upon the degree of which man could energize and modify the cells within his Soul in the desired direction and the degree to which he was able to select a physical environment that would facilitate the modification of these cells to bring about desired conditions and good health.

“The highest function of the healing art is not to cure the sick, but to keep people well. We need those who can cure disease but even more we need those who can keep disease from manifesting.” ~ C.C. Zane

Elective Astrology - Timing Medical Procedures

I have had some rather good results helping clients choose good dates for elective medical procedures via Elective Astrology. As with all things in life, sometimes a procedure or operation must take place at a time when the client has no choice but using astrology can still be helpful with the healing process that follows such a circumstance.

Many analytic processes in astrology require discernment of the condition of the Moon and choosing a good date for surgery is no exception. It is a good idea to operate 5 days before or after a New Moon. The Moon rules the tidal fluids of the body and during this period the fluids are at their lowest which assists with healing. There is usually less swelling and lymph drainage after surgery. It is never a good idea to operate 5 days before or after a Full Moon when the body fluids are at their highest and swelling and bruising and overt drainage can take place. Things will return back to normal eventually but much later than would be desired. A Void-Of-Course Moon is another facet to avoid because it can indicate that mistakes will be made and that allergic reactions to drugs or anesthesia can occur. Often the client will require further surgery at a later date for repair.

The Moon's signature is also important. Each sign of the zodiac represents an area of the anatomy so it is not a good idea if on the day of the surgery, the Moon is in the sign or opposite the sign that rules the part of the body scheduled for repair. If this does occur, healing is prolonged and the bodily area is sensitive and tender for a long period of time. The best Moon sign for operations are when the Moon is in a Fixed Sign such as Taurus, Leo, Scorpio or Aquarius as these signs all represent strength. These signs should not be chosen if they correspond with the part of the anatomy slated for repair. For example, a tonsillectomy should not take place when the Moon is in the sign of Taurus which rules the throat or the sign opposite Taurus which is Scorpio. The 2nd best choice is Cardinal signs – Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn. It is best to avoid Mutable signs such as Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces as it is believed that the surgeon might be a bit too “creative” during these transits. It is never a good idea to operate on the day when the Moon is either conjunct, square, inconjunct (quincunx) the individual’s natal Sun, Mars, Saturn or Neptune. On the other hand, sextiles or trines to the individual’s natal Sun, Moon, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune or Pluto are helpful. If the Moon is conjunct the natal Venus or Jupiter this is a boon as these planets provide an extra degree of protection.

Aside from the Moon, the cosmic condition of transiting Mercury and Mars and Neptune need attention. A big no-no is scheduling surgery during a Mercury retrograde period. Mistakes with lab work or mistakes rendered by the surgeon or by those in attendance during surgery are common. Also common is allergic reaction to anesthesia or pre and post-operative medications. Sutures can fall out or become undone before healing has taken place or sometimes staples or sponges are sutured into the incision by mistake. Later surgery to repair mistakes is basically a given and statistically most malpractice suits occur as a direct result of surgery that conducted during Mercury retrograde.

A retrograde transiting Mars is also a big problem. Mars rules surgery and cutting and when the planet is retrograde sudden or unexpected hemorrhaging can take place along with abnormal swelling, inflammation, bruising and internal bleeding. Emergency rooms are usually very busy during Mars retrograde tending to accident victims. In addition to Mars, I have also found it helpful to check out the conditions surrounding Neptune in the natal chart. Neptune rules drugs, medications and anesthesia along with any allergies to these things. Should any individual show cosmic risk in his/her nativity for allergies this should be brought to the attention of the client and surgeon. Propensity for infection which is also partly ruled by Neptune should also be discerned.

Clients who are seeking more insight into their actual medical conditions astrologically should seek the advice of a qualified Medical Astrologer. As a rule of thumb it is wise to remember that a bonafide Medical Astrologer is also a credentialed practicing Medical Doctor. Do not settle for less.

Alternative Cosmic/Chakra Rulerships

Chakra system has always been associated with the ancient planets Sun-Saturn but with the integration of more astro bodies into astrology, new thoughts occur regarding rulerships. In this illustration a different perspective is offered in connection with the Chakra system. In this illustration, Pluto governs the Root Chakra, Mars the Sacral Chakra, the Moon - the Solar Plexus Chakra, Venus - the Heart Chakra, The Sun and Jupiter - the Higher Heart Chakra, Mercury and Saturn - the Throat Chakra, Chiron - the Third Eye Chakra surrounded by a halo of Neptune and Uranus - the Crown Chakra.

The next illustration offers asteroid rulerships along with the planets and Chiron. The Root Chakra – Saturn, Pluto and the asteroid Sappho, Sacral Chakra – Jupiter and the asteroid Hygeia, Solar Plexus Chakra – Sun, Mars and the asteroid Zeus, Heart Chakra – Venus and the asteroid Ceres, Throat Chakra – Mercury and the asteroid Urania, Third Eye Chakra Moon, Neptune, and the asteroid Pallas and the Crown Chakra – Uranus and the planetoid Chiron.

The last illustration depicts SEVEN RAY Esoteric Sacred Planetary Rulership and Ray color associated with the chakras. RAY1 – (Red) Crown Chakra, Esoteric

Are We Subject to Galactic Disease?

PONDER THIS ...

Every year, the human race suffers with the usual bouts of the flu and the common cold. The words “air born” or “caught it from so and so” often come up in reference to the way illness is spread. These references almost give the flu a kind of neighborly connotation AND speaking of neighborly...what about those neighborly cosmic vagabonds - the comets? Is it possible that they can expose Earth to unknown galactic disease?

In a controversial thesis put forth by two eminent British astronomers, Sir Fred Hoyle and Professor Chandra Wickramasinghe this is exactly the case. Hoyle and Wickramasinghe believe that the dust that fills the space between the stars consists of minute living organisms and that comets, formed when the Solar System was born, are made up of this interstellar dust mixed with frozen gasses and ice. They further believe that when a comet travels through our Solar System, some of this “dust” drifts into the Earth’s atmosphere where the unknown organisms find a compatible environment in which to multiply.

The two astronomers go on to link certain outbreaks with particular comets. For example, Halley’s Comet which takes between 75-78 years to complete its orbit around the Sun seemed to coincide with the world wide outbreak of the Asian flu in 1957 and a similar outbreak 77 years earlier. They went on to test their theory by studying flu outbreaks in British boarding schools noting very “sporadic” and seemingly “air born” activity. According to Hoyle and Wickramasinghe, once a virus is established on Earth it can bring about a permanent change in the genetic material of the host which can be inherited by later generations. As usual, all of these theories met with criticism from colleagues and the scientific community until 1986. Space probes flying close to Halley’s Comet revealed that the dust given off by the comet contained the two elements vital to life, carbon and hydrogen, AND ALSO fragments of molecules that were probably of the type produced by living things.

Ponder that the next time you sneeze!

And the Beat Goes On ...

PONDER THIS ...

Ever wonder how a person is able to wake up at a specific time each day without the aid of an alarm clock? If someone asked you the time and you didn't have a watch, did you know that you would probably be able to give the correct answer within a half hour? None of this requires any special psychic ability. It is a process natural to mankind; an internal clock known as Circadian Rhythm.

All living things are affected by three rhythmic cycles: the revolution of the Earth, the 28.5 day orbit of the Moon around the Earth, and the annual orbit of the Earth around the Sun. It is believed that man's natural rhythm is balanced between the 24 hour solar day and the lunar day which is approximately 50 minutes longer. Thus, Circadian Rhythm is influenced by the rising and the setting of the Sun. In a sense we are all on "Sun time" however, it has been noted that individuals who are restrained from outside stimuli and natural light such as prisoners kept in isolation cells, will revert to a longer day or "Moon time."

Scientists believe that Circadian Rhythm is partly controlled by the hypothalamus which regulates pituitary secretions and the activity of other endocrine glands. Pulse, blood pressure, temperature, respiration, and hormone activity are all in tune with the celestial movements of the Earth and the Moon. One's abilities, temperament, and resistance to infection are also controlled by the Circadian Beat. This may explain why some epileptics experience seizures at certain times of the day or why pregnant women experience morning sickness at around the same time every day. Air travelers who suffer from jet lag are actually experiencing a shift in their Circadian Rhythm whereby their metabolism is trying to adapt to a different part of the globe. For many years, the Sun's cycle with its 11 year rise and fall of sunspots, has been studied to discern whether its cosmic rhythm can be linked to epidemics on Earth.

So, whether you are a night person who stays up late wide awake or a morning person who goes to bed early and rises early, your personal metabolism dances to the beat of the Universe.

You Really Are What You Eat! An Astrological Guide to Better Health

Handy Body Anatomy

Did you know that the hand holds a correspondence to the anatomy of your body? You can literally check for health problems by using the graph below and a pendulum!

1. Head
2. Throat
3. Arms, Hands
4. Chest
5. Stomach
6. Intestines
7. Kidneys, Spine
8. Sexual Organs
9. Thighs, Anus
10. Knees
11. Legs, Calves, Ankles
12. Feet
13. Liver, Circulation
14. Bones, Teeth
15. Heart
16. Nervous System
17. Muscles, Nose
18. Stomach, Breasts
19. Lungs

Here are the directions: Seat your “patient” in front of you and have them extend out their left hand palm up. Make sure he or she removes any rings and washes and dries the hand prior to analysis. Hold the pendulum in your right hand and let it begin to gyrate. Using your left index finger, touch each part of the patient’s palm using the diagram as a guide - one at a time. Observe the movement of the pendulum as you touch and refer to each “body” correspondence. A clockwise gyration indicates good health for the anatomy in question. A counterclockwise gyration can indicate an issue that needs to be medically addressed. If you would like to check your own hand, trace your left hand palm up on a piece of paper and follow the same rules.

Cosmic Healing Timetable

Listen to the Music!

Astrologers are always testing theories that link the Cosmos to healing. One premise is that listening to music by composers whose Sun Sign is the same as the Sign on the 6th House of Health cusp can assist in healing physical health. Here are some suggestions for the Signs:

ARIES: Bach (Johann Sebastian), Rachmaninov, Haydn

TAURUS: Brahms, Tchaikovsky, Ellington, Bacharach

Medical Astrology & URANIAN Planets

Uranian Astrology was discovered and proposed by Alfred Witte of Germany and expounded upon by fellow Uranian astrologer Friedrich Siegrün in the early 1920's. Witte was a surveyor, astrologer and amateur astronomer who founded the Hamburg School of Astrology. The Uranian planets are in basis known as "Transneptunians" and are hypothetical by nature. The Transneptunians proposed by Witte were Cupido, Hades Zeus and Kronos. Those proposed by Siegrün were Appollon, Admetos, Vulcanus and Posiedon.

There are eight Uranian planets used in Medical Astrology. Medical astrologers who use the Uranian planets do so in correlation with natal and progressed work and midpoints on a 90 degree dial. The dial is another way of viewing a chart using the fourth harmonics system developed by the Hamburg School and expounded by the work of Cosmologist Reinhold Ebertin. The dial allows astrologers to discern hard aspects, the semi-square (45°), the square (90°) and the opposition (180°). Under these conditions, the Uranian planets can give the astrologer extra information along with the regular planets regarding past, present and future health problems.

The most important Uranian planets used for medical analysis are Hades, Appollon and Admetos. Vulcanus and Zeus have some medical significance followed by Cupido, Posiedon and Kronos which tend to have a lesser effect.

Actual medical information regarding each Uranian Planet is quite extensive but the following provides a synopsis of each planet for those who wish to satisfy their curiosity to some degree:

HADES

It is generally agreed that HADES is the most difficult of the eight Uranian planets. In essence, it represents something serious that will not go away. An illness discovered under the light of Hades signals a worsening condition that is not likely to get better or long term ailments that have taken such a long time to manifest, grow and transform they are extremely difficult to control let alone cure. Although Hades is considered the “bringer of havoc” for the patient, in a doctor’s or therapists chart it represents those who are exceptional at medical analysis and able to discern the root cause of a medical problem. Hades governs slow, deteriorating diseases such as HIV/AIDS, cancer, diabetes, osteoarthritis, osteoporosis, lupus, chronic fatigue syndrome, M.S., Lou Gherig Disease, gangrene, anorexia, bulimia, self-hate, sociopathic behavior and suicide, poisonous infections and bites, food poisoning, skin diseases such as psoriasis, dermatitis, eczema, and ulcers, depression and hopelessness, psychic vampirism, pedophilia, rape and brutality AND all types of trauma suffered under the hands of others.

APPOLLON

APPOLLON often suggests that there are at least two or more medical difficulties that are contributing to the main scenario. Appollon is strongly tied to complications often secondary in nature due to misdiagnosis which causes the patient to grow more ill. In some cases the patient will have a tendency to ignore symptoms until a far worse condition develops. Appollon governs twins, strep A bacterial infections, Lyme disease, Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, lymph node and glandular cancer.

ADMETOS

The influence of ADMETOS is like the seed that remains dormant until body conditions are right for illness to be sown. The individual is often his own worst enemy because the disease that ensues has done so because of neglect and improper health maintenance. Admetos is seen in charts of unwanted pregnancies, comas and suffocation. Conversely, a well-placed Admetos can signify one who has the discipline and fortitude to overcome illness. Admetos governs blockages, blood clots, cholesterol, panic attacks, introversion and repression, stiff joints and muscles, circulation problems, Reynaud's Syndrome, claustrophobia, abortion, autism and balance problems.

VULCANUS

VULCANUS represents added problems to an already existing illness. Often seen in "festering" conditions, Vulcanus irritates the problem making it more obvious until just like a volcano it surfaces full blown. Until that occurs, Vulcanus tends to act like a chameleon assuming the qualities of whatever planet(s) are at the root of the issue making the dis-ease hard to diagnose. On the up side, a well-placed Vulcanus represents excellent recuperative powers. Vulcanus is sometimes tied to medical equipment operating procedures. Also covered under Vulcanus are the onset of fever and inflammation, cluster and migraine headaches, torn muscles and ligaments, nerve inflammation such as sciatica, skin diseases, herpes, high blood pressure and genetic deformity.

ZEUS

Just like the great god Zeus who was interested in procreation with humans, this Uranian planet is tied to conception – literally as well as generally where it represents the beginning of something. The energy of ZEUS acts more as an "impulse" and therefore the cause of an ailment rather than a contributor to an ailment. Zeus is also tied to fire and firearms thus representing burn victims and those wounded by gunshot or explosions. Zeus governs the rapid onset of fever, brain injury, and injury by lightning strike, epidemics, road rage, high blood pressure, stroke, injury or death by a sharp instrument, AIDS/HIV infection, sexual disorders (including incest and impotence), prostate inflammation and post-traumatic stress syndrome.

CUPIDO

CUPIDO is a family oriented planet representing illness within the immediate familial circle or heralding the birth of a child. It is also concerned with miscarriage, infertility, multiple births, caregivers and caretakers and the stress they endure, orphans, adoptions, family tragedy and issues of co-dependency. Oddly, a family member who is sick may be represented by Cupido in the chart of another family member. Because of this forewarned is to be forearmed aspect, Cupido can be used by astrologers to avert a health crisis. Cupido can sometimes signal that an individual has gone overboard by indulging in too much of a good thing that has adversely affected health.

POSIEDON

POSIEDON has more of a spiritual and mental/emotional function in medical astrology. It can signify “red tape” such as hospital and government forms. In recent studies it has been tied to mental illness and emotional/learning disorders. Among them are schizophrenia, and OCD (obsessive-compulsive disorder), autism, Down's syndrome, drug addiction, dyslexia, speech disorders (including stammering), epilepsy and ADD/ADHD. On the spiritual side it is tied to overcoming illness due in part to maintaining a good attitude or the ability to tap into the Divine for healing.

KRONOS

Is time running out? Then the skillful hands of a good surgeon will save the day! KRONOS has more to do with medical treatment from a masterful doctor than actual physical ailments. On a mental level, Kronos represents discipline and self-control concerning health maintenance when it is well aspected in a chart. Kronos governs medical/health bureaucracy and medical malpractice, Medicare, medical legalities, medical specialists, and the American Medical Association.

Lunar Healing

Energy Healing of certain body issues can be achieved when the Moon transits the different signs of the Zodiac. You'll need to have a calendar on hand that shows you which sign the Moon transits on a given day. Visit your favorite energy healer when the Moon is in these signs to address the issues listed or perform your own personal healing by directing healing color to afflicted areas as specified. Note that the Lunar Zodiacal Correspondences listed here are NOT good times for medical procedures on the parts of the body listed under each Lunar Sign or the sign's polarity (opposite sign).

The Moon transiting the sign of Aries is the time to heal issues concerning physical exertion and muscular injuries, bladder and external sexual organ functions, head and face problems and any issues with taste. The Lunar healing color is Magenta.

CRYSTAL THERAPY PRIMER

Healing with Crystals

The basic tenant of metaphysic teaches us that energy responds to intention. Once our intention is set upon healing another person not only do we become a conduit for healing but the energy of the crystals and stones we are using also pick up the vibration of the healing intention bringing forth their own inherent and special healing gifts.

Nature is filled with Sacred Geometry and the Mineral Kingdom is no exception. Crystalline structures can be thought of as the Earth's DNA storing the evolution of the planet. Science tells us that crystals formed from the same mineral or combination of minerals can crystallize differently. The outward expression of a crystal is based upon its internal order although the outer form may not always reflect what is going on at the heart or core of the crystal. At the inner most center of a crystal is its atomic structure spinning or rotating at a particular frequency or vibration.

This represents the energy of a crystal and is what a sensitive person feels when handling a crystal. It should be remembered that stones and crystals share the same electromagnetic patterning and atomic structure as the Earth, the human body, and all other creatures and entities. Surrounding the center is Sacred Geometry as chosen by Nature upon which the crystal is built. This internal structure is believed to be constant and unchanging.

“In mineralogy and crystallography, a crystal structure is a unique arrangement is a unique arrangement of atoms in a crystal. A crystal structure is composed of a unit cell, a set of atoms arranged in a particular way; which is periodically repeated in three dimensions on a lattice. The spacing between unit cells in various directions is called its lattice parameters. The symmetry properties of the crystal are embodied in its space group. A crystal's structure and symmetry play a role in determining many of its properties, such as cleavage, electronic band structure, and optical properties.” – Wikipedia online

There are six crystal systems that delineate their symmetry - Isometric, Orthorhombic, Tetragonal, Monoclinic, Hexagonal, and Triclinic.

ISOMETRIC – block like or ball like with many similar symmetrical faces forming as cubes, octahedrons and dodecahedrons. Sodalite, Fluorite, Garnet, Lapis, Galena, and Pyrite are a few examples.

ORTORHOMBIC – short stubby diamond shaped or rectangular at the cross section forming as four sided prisms, pyramids and pinacoids (an open form with two parallel faces). Examples are Sulphur, Cat’s Eye, Peridot, Topaz, and Marcasite.

TETRAGONAL – long, slender, and needle like forming as four sided prisms, pyramids, and dipyramids. Examples are Rutile, Cassiterite, Apophyllite, and Zircon.

MONOCLINIC – stubby with tilted matching faces at opposite ends forming as prisms and pinacoids. Examples are Malachite, Azurite, Chrysocolla, Jade, Selenite, and Serpentine.

HEXAGONAL (TRIGONAL) – prismatic or columnar with rounded triangular or hexagonal cross section forming as six sided prisms, pyramids, and rhombohedrons. Examples are Tourmaline, Beryl, Quartz, Cinnabar, Hematite, Calcite, Dioptase, and Apatite.

TRICLINIC – flat with sharp edges and a thin cross section with no right angles forming as pinacoids. Examples are Turquoise, Wulfenite, and Feldspar.

Here are the geometric forms of crystal structure:

The Platonic Solids

The 5 Platonic solids (Tetrahedron, Cube or (Hexahedron), Octahedron, Dodecahedron & Icosahedron) are ideal, primal models of crystal patterns that occur throughout the world of minerals in countless variations.

These are the only five regular polyhedra, that is, the only five solids made from the same equilateral, equiangular polygons. To the Greeks, these solids symbolized fire, earth, air, spirit (or ether) and water respectively.

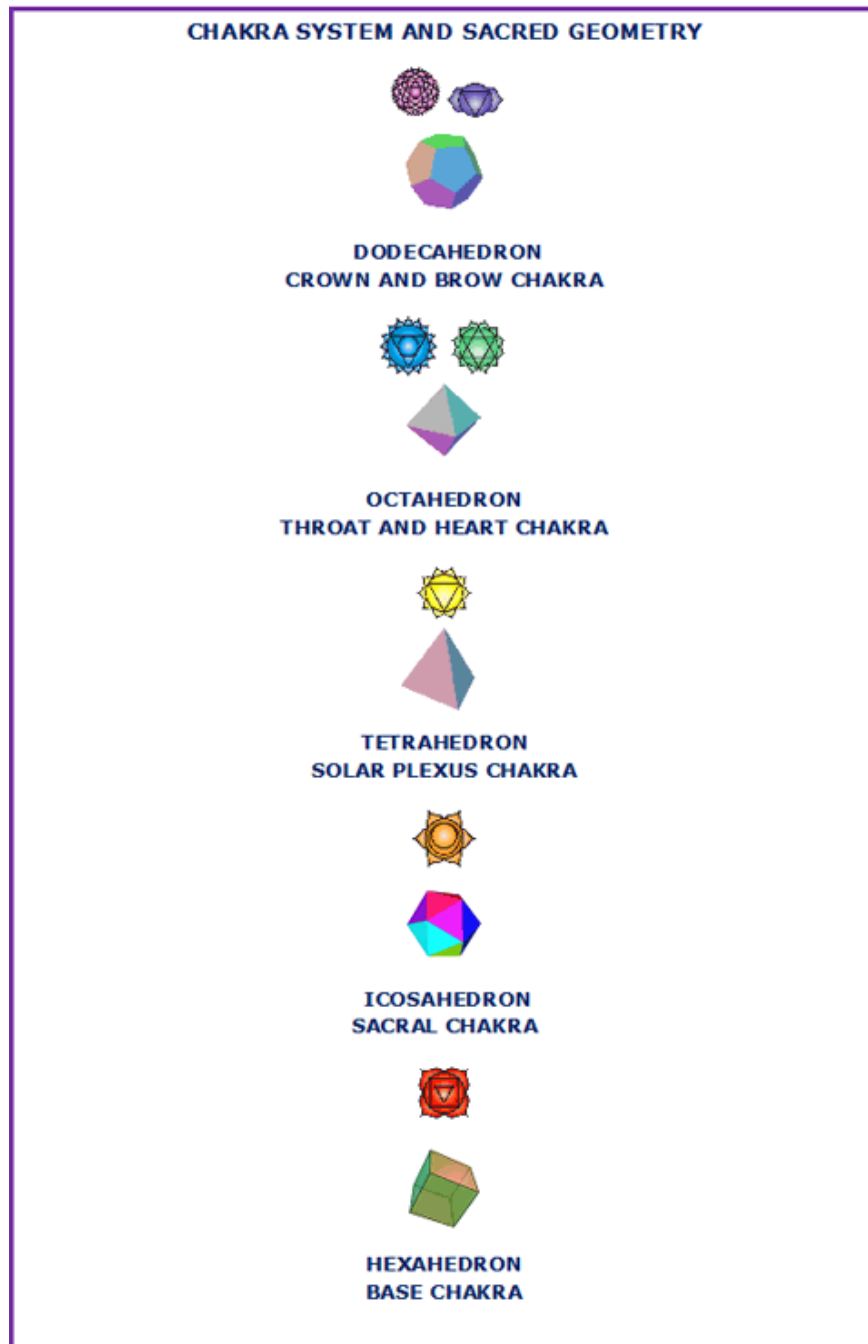

The cube and octahedron are duals, meaning that one can be created by connecting the midpoints of the faces of the other.

The icosahedron and dodecahedron are also duals of each other, and three mutually perpendicular, mutually bisecting golden rectangles can be drawn connecting their vertices and midpoints, respectively.

The tetrahedron is a dual to itself.

The Chakras which are the spinning energy vortexes of the human body are also subject to Sacred Geometry as it comes to us via the Five Platonic Solids. Please note the similarity between the geometry of the Chakras known as Polyhedra (equal angles, faces and vertices or points) and crystalline structures.

Healing with crystals is a very ancient modality. Archeology has shown that the knowledge and use of crystals, minerals, and gemstones dates back to the Stone Age. Ancient cultures revered crystals and stones and engaged them not only for healing purposes but also for communication and prophesying. Many people believe that these ‘magickal rocks’ particularly Quartz was used extensively for advanced technology in Lemuria and Atlantis. Even a skeptic would have to open a more objective eye to this concept when we already know that something as simple as a ham radio can be powered by the tiniest solo piece of crystal (Galena) without the aid of batteries or household electric current.

Along with the ancient alchemists, contemporary scientists and physicists have researched the properties of crystals and stones. We know that the magnetism produced by an electric current is inherent in the atomic structure of certain stones. Human beings are also magnetic and electrical so a natural tie can be made. Esoterically speaking, mystics, shamans, and quantum physicists perceive that electromagnetic energy is the physical source of ether or the fifth element (along with the elements fire, earth, air, and water) in which all creatures exist. From this viewpoint, the relationship between magnetism and electricity can be seen as bridging the gap between physical reality and other worldly reality. Hence, crystals and stones also as a bridge between those realities.

We are all children of the Universe and our bodies represent the Cosmos in miniature. We are attuned to not only Mother Earth but also Father Sky and our human bodies are the vehicles through which we experience all there is to experience. Everything happens within the body. The body is your house. It is place where you go to make change happen. Did you ever hear the expression, “If you want change, you must first clean up your house?” All psychic phenomena and psychological conditions occur within the body – we go into our ‘houses’ to find the answers from our mind, feelings, and instincts (rational, emotional, and psychic). During a Crystal Healing, assistance for these internal answers comes from the Kingdom of Stone buried at the heart of the Earth and from the Kingdom of Light through the Hand of God. Crystal Therapists understand the Mineral Kingdom as a Universal Energy that is used for healing under the auspices of the Higher Will and Divine Law of God. The power of crystals and stones work through the higher consciousness of the individual being healed. A Crystal Therapist like any other energy healer houses no great personal power. They simply help to direct Universal energies through use of the Mineral Kingdom to further the propagation of the Light and Love for the good of all. Crystal Therapy is a serious healing modality which requires right attitude and right action. Nothing less is acceptable.

Relieving Energy Blocks

Today, more and more people are making the “life force” mind/body/spiritual connection and the integral part of this connection is the balancing of the chakras. In simplest terms, the chakras are spinning wheels of conscious energy within the body. They are rotating vortexes where energy enters and exits. They are thought to have different diameters depending upon how much energy is going in and out at a particular time. There are many chakras within and without the body. For purposes of this article the Seven Primary Major Chakras will be addressed. It should be noted though that each of the Seven Primary Major Chakras projects energy out to up to 50 Minor Chakras. These Seven Chakras also have Etheric counterparts within the body known as Tan Tien. There are also Secondary Major Chakras, Tertiary Minor Chakras, Quarternary, and Quinternary Chakras. Most of these are engaged during acupuncture and accupressure treatments. The chakras also carry physical body associations.

The Seven Major Chakras and their human associations are:

- ① ROOT (Muladhara) – Basic Survival and Security
- ② SACRAL (Svadasthana) – Procreation and Sex Drive

- SOLAR PLEXUS (Manipurak) – Power, “Knowing”, and Gut Feeling
- HEART (Anahata) – Love and Acceptance
- THROAT (Vishudhi) – Communication and Speaking One’s Truth
- BROW (Ajuna) – 3rd Eye and Psychic Perceptions
- CROWN (Sahasrara) – Connection to Higher Levels of Consciousness

The Seven Major Chakras and their bodily and psychological associations are:

- ROOT (Pelvic floor) – Lower back pain, sciatica, hemorrhoids, constipation, obesity and other weight problems. Psychological – frustration, rage, fear and depression.
- SACRAL (Abdominal area) – Fertility and gynecological problems, sexual potency, kidney problems, muscle cramps and spasms. Psychological – despair, hopelessness, overindulgence and neediness.
- SOLAR PLEXUS (between Navel and Chest) – Food allergies, digestive disorders, diabetes, gallstones, arthritis, ulcers, liver disorders and eating disorders. Psychological – feelings of weakness or loss, anxiety, guilt and doubt.
- HEART (center of Chest) - Heart conditions, lung problems, asthma, allergies, fatigue, breast cancer, bronchitis, pneumonia and thymus gland issues and auto-immune response. Psychological – loss, grief, anguish and worthlessness.
- THROAT (center of Neck) - Thyroid conditions, sore throats, loss of voice such as in laryngitis, mouth ulcers, teeth and gum conditions, headaches and ear infections. Psychological – repression, lack of inspiration and inability to honor intuition and psychic receptivity.
- BROW (between the Brows) - Pituitary gland issues, endocrine gland disorders, brain tumors, blindness and deafness. Psychological – obsession, insanity and unwillingness to learn from others and/or failure to acknowledge “inner” wisdom.

By increasing awareness of the spiritual connection to your body you can identify unresolved issues that could be creating physical health issues. The goal of course is to have all Seven Chakras in alignment which can be achieved through balancing. Crystal balancing requires color meditation and application of crystals or stones. For this exercise we will be using simple crystals and stones that are easy to acquire and are generally readily purchasable.

They are Red Jasper -Root, Orange Calcite – Sacral, Citrine – Solar Plexus, and Aventurine – Heart, Blue Agate - Throat, Lapis Lazuli – Brow and Amethyst – Crown.

ENERGY BLOCK HEALING MEDITATION

Lie down in a comfortable place and relax. Breathe in deeply through your nose and exhale out of your mouth. Repeat three times. You will be sending energized color to your chakras during this exercise along with the energy of the corresponding crystals. To accomplish 'color sending' simply envision the color in the area then sense it and feel it there. Place the Red Jasper at the base of your spine for the Root Chakra (you will need to open your legs slightly to do this). Close your eyes and send the color RED to your root chakra in the pelvic floor. Meditate on RED envisioning that its energetic is growing and enlarging until it reaches the Sacral Chakra. Apply the Orange Calcite to your abdominal area below the navel. Send the color ORANGE to your Sacral Chakra in the abdomen and envision it growing and enlarging until it reaches the Solar Plexus. Apply the Citrine to the center of your body between the navel and chest bone. Send the color YELLOW to your Sacral Chakra and envision it growing and enlarging until it reaches the Heart Chakra. Apply the Aventurine to the center of your chest and send the color GREEN to your Heart Chakra and envision it growing and enlarging until it reaches the Throat Chakra. Apply the Blue Agate to the center of your throat and send the color BLUE to your Throat Chakra and envision it growing and enlarging until it reaches your Brow Chakra. Apply the Lapis to the area between your eyebrows and send the color INDIGO to your Brow Chakra and envision it growing and enlarging until it reaches your Crown Chakra. Place the Amethyst at the top your head and send the color VIOLET to your Crown Chakra. Relax and breathe. When you feel re-energized remove your crystals and sit up and stretch.

Don't forget to cleanse or clear your crystals so they are ready for your next healing session!

Be well!

Crystal Detox with Hygeia and Chiron

Crystal healing combined with planetary vibrations and tones has been known and used for centuries by Stellar Healers. The great research advances in the art and science of astrology have brought to light further information regarding various other heavenly bodies and there is virtually no reason why the energies of certain asteroids cannot be employed in etheric/body healing. At the top of list are the asteroid Hygeia and the planetoid Chiron.

HYGEIA is the astrological asteroid of health and wellness.

As the mythological daughter of Asclepius the ancient doctor and healer, Hygeia represents personal attitude towards understanding and maintaining health of body and mind. All forms of ‘health balance’ including detoxification and cleanliness fall under the jurisdiction of Hygeian energy. Therefore, Crystal Detox using stones and colors connected to Hygeia is very powerful and should be approached with right action, proper mind set and deep consciousness. This healing focuses on the Sacral Chakra which is also associated with detoxification and purification. The vibration of this chakra directs life force energy into building a strong immune system thus keeping the physical body active and functional. It is most important that this chakra remain in good balance so the life force stays buoyant keeping the body safe from disease and emotional imbalance.

The color orange, ranging from golden orange to dark amber is widely accepted as being related to the Sacral Chakra and to the goddess Hygeia. She is often depicted as a stalwart maiden clothed in an orange and gold gown. The snake she handles in most artistic renditions is either orange or orange-gold.

Most people today consider the word “detox” to mean clearing the body of impurities in order to regain and retain good health. This includes boosting the body’s ability to lose unneeded weight which is normally handled by the body’s elimination processes.

The hectic and stressful life style prevalent in today’s society often leads to imbalances of too much intense activity trying to get everything done ‘yesterday’ aggravated by poor nutrition choices such as fast foods or adversely skipping meals. The Sacral Chakra controls the “appetite” in and references it with regard to food, life pleasures and sex. Hygeia also rules the diet particularly dietary imbalances so the association of Hygeia and the Sacral Chakra is a fine etheric match.

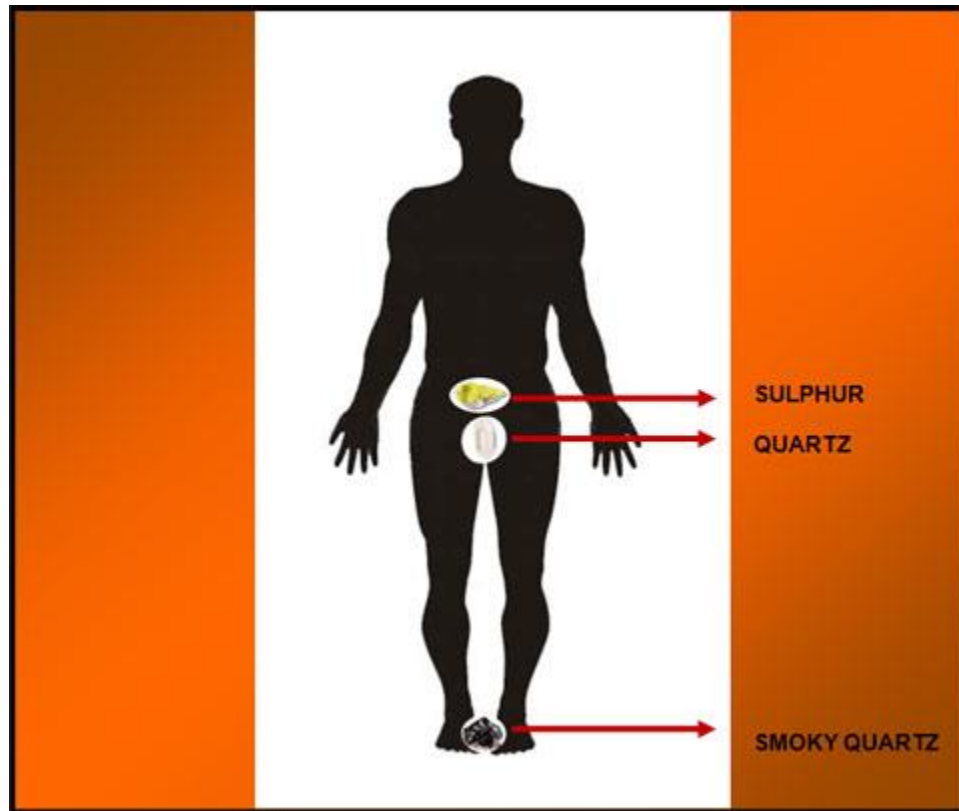

The following will be need to perform this Detox – an orange cloth, mat or blanket large enough to lie on and that will surround the entire body for at least a foot around the circumference, one piece of smoky quartz (grounding; dissolution of fear), one piece of sulphur (negativity absorption) and one piece of quartz crystal with one pointed end (energy amplification; cleansing).

DIRECTIONS:

1. Choose a time that will allow for the session. This is a short session of about 5 minutes that also requires a post relaxation period of 5-10 minutes. 15 minutes total.
2. Put on comfortable loose clothing preferably in a light color (white is best). Remove all jewelry and your shoes. Pockets should be empty.
3. Select a quiet well-lit place where you will not be interrupted by other people phones, cell phones, radios, or television.
4. Drink some water (at least 4 ounces) and go to the bathroom if necessary.
5. Spread down your mat/blanket. Sit down with your legs spread out in front of you slightly open and place the Smoky Quartz between your feet ground and anchor yourself. Lie down on your back.
6. Place the Sulphur on your lower abdomen over the Sacral Chakra and just below it place the Quartz with the point aiming at your feet
7. Spread your arms slightly apart from your body with the palms of your hands facing up.
8. Take a deep breath in through your nose and exhale out through your mouth. Repeat two more times.
9. Stay in this layout for 5 minutes and then remove the stones. When you are ready, sit up and have some more water.
10. Don't forget to cleanse the stones so they are ready for the next session. (NOTE: It is not advisable to run Sulphur under water for cleansing. Running it through some Sage smoke or placing it near some Citrine is fine.)
11. Repeat this Detox every three to four days until the desired result is acquired.

CHIRON is the astrological representative of healing and self-integration that comes from emotional wounds and deep levels of hurt.

The planetoid Chiron has become increasingly important in astrological analysis in recent years. In mythology Chiron the centaur is known as the Wounded Healer and Teacher who instructed other mythological greats such as Hercules, Achilles, Jason and Asclepius in the arts of warfare and healing.

Chiron suffered a wound which could not heal because he was immortal yet from his pain came great wisdom and internal healing. In astrology, Chiron represents deep and painful blockages that must be overcome before healing and resolution can take place. Chirotic energy works with all the chakras and with the total life force particularly focusing on the immune system of the body. The Chiron Detox stimulates all natural healing processes and redresses balance of bodily assimilation as it supports and aids the fight against harmful external influences.

The stone Turquoise is a promoter of self-realization and is thought to protect against negative external influences and help the individual to recognize causes of emotional pain and unhappiness while learning how to master these causes. It balances and aligns all the chakras and strengthens the meridians of the body. Turquoise therefore is the perfect crystal association for the energy of Chiron.

The color yellow is a high vibrational hue that contains more light than any other color in the visible spectrum. It is thought to dispel fear, lift the spirit and give hope as well as a sense of ease. Yellow is also the color of balanced mentality and intelligence that makes it possible to digest information and incorporate it into positive self-value.

The combined vibration of Chirotic energy, Turquoise stones and the color yellow clears away blockages from the past (including past lives) and encourages the identification and assimilation processes of the body so that healing can take place.

The following will be need to perform this Detox – a yellow cloth, mat or blanket large enough to lie on and that will surround the entire body for at least a foot around the circumference and nine turquoise stones.

DIRECTIONS:

1. Choose a time that will allow for the session. This is a short session of about 6-10 minutes that also requires a post relaxation period of 5-10 minutes. 20 minutes total at most.
2. Put on comfortable loose clothing preferably in a light color (white is best). Remove all jewelry and your shoes. Pockets should be empty.
3. Select a quiet well-lit place where you will not be interrupted by other people phones, cell phones, radios, or television.

4. Drink some water (at least 4 ounces) and go to the bathroom if necessary.
5. Spread down your mat/blanket. Sit down with your legs spread out in front of you slightly open and place one Turquoise stone between your feet, one below your feet and one on each side of your thighs. After you lie back place a stone on each side of your shoulders, one above your head and one stone in each of the palms of your hand.
6. Take a deep breath in through your nose and exhale out of your mouth. Repeat three times.
7. Remain in this position for 6-10 minutes. When you are done remove the the stones and rest quietly for 5-10 minutes and the resume your usual activity.
8. Don't forget to cleanse the stones so they are ready for the next session.
9. This Detox can be repeated daily. It is your choice.

HEALING WITH HYGEIA, CHIRON AND OPHIUCHUS

Hygeia, Chiron and Ophiuchus are the Stellar Healers of the Cosmos. Learn about how their influence in your life can give a better understanding of health and wellness.

In mythology, Hygeia is the daughter of the famed healer and physician Asclepius who astrologers also recognize as the 13th sign of the zodiac, Ophiuchus the serpent handler. In natal astrology, Hygeia is the asteroid that represents one's attitude toward health and wellness. Hygeia often shows up by transit when an individual is experiencing a health issue or imbalance and helps to define the actual problem by sign and house posits, medical degree, aspect or midpoint. The glyph or sigil of Hygeia resembles the caduceus or Rod of Hermes (a staff entwined by two snakes) which is also the well-known and recognizable symbol of the American Medical Association.

Hygeia governs sanitation, hygiene, ecology, preservation, discovery of vaccines, medical and alternative health organizations, fitness and exercise, places of meditation and recovery and all venues that recognize the link between mind, body and spirit. Hygeia is also associated with physical, mental and chemical imbalances.

Here are some “Hygeian Potentials” by associations to astrological signs and houses. Please consult a professional astrologer for your personal birthdate Hygeian information.

HYGEIA IN THE NATAL SIGNS

<HYGEIA IN ARIES>

Anything “Aries” is always “busy” wasting no time so this combination tends to have little patience for illness. It takes a good deal for them to actually be overcome by illness and when this happens it should be taken as a sign that they need to slow down. Generally, they maintain a healthy lifestyle and enjoy fitness programs that are challenging.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Highly respected reincarnationist and past life therapist Joan Grant (a Sun Aries) had natal Hygeia in Aries (health pioneer) in the 10th house (career and public recognition). It served as the apex or focal point of the T-square (plenty of action) with Jupiter in Cancer in the 1st house (benevolent spiritual projection) opposed (awareness of responsibility) Mars in Capricorn in the 7th House (working with the public as an authority on the subject). Joan worked closely with her husband psychiatrist Dr. Denys Kelsey with his past life progression work from patients suffering from unexplained mental trauma. Joan’s innate ability to tap into the past life of another using her ‘far memory’ technique saved many from having to ‘relive trauma’ which is often associated with regression techniques. Her ‘delivery of analysis’ after rooting out the issue was swift and usually so was the patient’s recovery.

Read more about Joan Grant in the 9th GATE under Psychic Receptivity.

<HYGEIA IN TAURUS>

Health is tied to comfort and satisfaction. Diet is sometimes an issue due to a desire to over-indulge in food or drink or other bad habits. Taurus is the sign of resilience and strength and a positively aspected Hygeia in this sign generally shows good immunity and the capacity to bounce back from illness. As Taurus is also a very stubborn and obstinate sign, often the individual's attitude causes illness if they refuse to move forward in life when they should.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Recent studies have linked a harshly aspected Hygeia to pedophilia and sexual abuse. Actor Woody Allen whose one time girlfriend, actress Mia Farrow, accused him of sexually abusing her adopted daughter Soon-Yi has a poorly and harshly aspected Hygeia in Taurus. Hygeia is conjunct Uranus in Taurus (interest in sexual experimentation), square Mars and Pluto (capacity for violence and control), sesquiquadrate Neptune (problems balancing fantasy with reality) and semi-square Chiron (personal unresolved wounds). Although the judge in the case concluded that sex abuse charges were inconclusive (mainly because Farrow could not prove the girl was underage at the time of the alleged incident) he did call Allen's conduct with Soon-Yi, "grossly inappropriate."

<HYGEIA IN GEMINI>

This combination often describes one who is somewhat of a self-made health guru who is very into physical fitness and/or sports. They are often walking-talking fitness encyclopedias who are constantly gathering knowledge on health issues. As Gemini is a mental sign, there is no problem understanding the link between mind and body... as a matter of fact the mind of this Hygeian will never let the body get lazy!

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Renowned actress Angelina Jolie Pitt maintains a stringent exercise and health program making it possible for her to do much of her own movie stunt work. Her natal Hygeia in Gemini (flexibility) is conjunct her natal Sun in Gemini (vitalized movement). This pair is trined by Pluto in Libra (balance of transformation) and opposed by Neptune in Sagittarius (awareness of the benefits of pushing boundaries). On a personal level, Angelina feels it is important that she set a good physically healthy example for her own children and for other young people. That deserves a huge round of applause!

<HYGEIA IN CANCER>

Those with Hygeia in Cancer don't just worry about their own health ... they worry about the health of family, friends and even the neighbor's dog! This is a very sensitive and caring placement for Hygeia and health can be closely linked to the home environment. Any disruptions in the home or in the work environment may spark bouts of ill health both physical and mental. Hygeia in this sign has an uncanny knack for understanding proper dietary requirements and they often enjoy cooking and inventing healthy snacks for others.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Health guru Richard Simmons and famous fitness icon Jack LaLanne have Hygeia in Cancer. Richard's Hygeia is conjunct his Sun both in Cancer (health awareness tied to caring and the desire to bring light to others - he tends to treat his clients like family!) and Jack's is in an out of sign conjunction with Neptune (Jack had a popular exercise, fitness and health [Hygeia] TV program [Neptune] in the 1950's. He can still be seen today promoting the Jack LaLanne Juicer on TV showing folks how to maintain a healthy body by "juicing" with fresh fruits and vegetables [Cancer loves to cook!]).

<HYGEIA IN LEO>

The individual with Hygeia in Leo literally takes pride in his/her health and often finds inventive and fun ways to maintain health. They might even have hobbies and pastimes linked with health. When they don't "feel well" they believe they cannot "project well" so personal accomplishment becomes marred or disrupted and Leo certainly will not tolerate anything less than majestic.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Comedian and actor Freddie Prinze Sr. was at the top of his profession when depression took over and he committed suicide by a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head at 3:30 am on the morning of January 28, 1977 in Los Angeles. Transit Saturn (death of the body) and progressed Mars (gunshot) sat at the midpoint of his natal Hygeia/Midheaven all in Leo and all were opposed by the transiting Sun (threat to vitality, change of worldly status). Progressed Hygeia conjoined his natal Pluto (need to transform the death of the mind by depression) while transiting Neptune (suicide) opposed both. The strongly afflicted Leo theme represents death of the EGO.

<HYGEIA IN VIRGO>

More than any other sign health is highlighted when Hygeia is in Virgo. This sign has an innate understanding of the links between mind, body and spirit and generally maintains a healthy daily regimen of good diet, exercise and above all hygiene (Virgo understands the need for personal cleanliness and a clean environment)! When they ignore their own self-imposed health program they tend to feel very guilty and fully understand that there will be a price to pay. This is a sign that needs to be organized so when life becomes disorganized, health suffers.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Still considered "The World's Greatest Magician," Harry Houdini died of fatal peritonitis from a ruptured appendix on October 31, 1926 at 1:26 pm in Montreal, Canada. At that time transiting Hygeia was in the sign of Virgo conjunct his natal Jupiter also in Virgo (Virgo rules both the appendix and peritonitis). Hygeia and Jupiter were being opposed by transiting Uranus in Pisces (unexpected happening requiring hospitalization). Houdini ignored the searing pain above his right hip, a sign of liver disease, until his appendix ruptured, causing fatal peritonitis. There is speculation that Houdini may have actually had liver disease that instigated the rupture. His natal Jupiter at 26°Virgo rules the iliac nerve and transiting Hygeia at 22°Virgo rules the capsule and ligament of the liver.

<HYGEIA IN LIBRA>

Imbalance is the key to ill health for this sign. Hygeia in Libra often connects good health and proper hygiene with beauty. This combination has been known to harp on others who they feel are unhealthy, dirty or disheveled. They are always more than willing to share their very good insight regarding health maintenance with others and tend to get upset if their advice should fall on deaf ears!

Hygeian Hall of Fame: The Great Seer Edgar Cayce had Hygeia in the sign of Libra in the 12th House. He spent most of his adult lifetime doling out unbelievably correct medical advice (Hygeia) that he received through meditative trances (12th House) to the public with wonderful diplomacy and caring (Libra).

Read more about Edgar Cayce in the 9th GATE under Psychic Receptivity.

<HYGEIA IN SCORPIO>

The sign of Scorpio is never satisfied until “all the rocks have been overturned” and “connections of truth” have been discerned. Natal Hygeia in Scorpio indicates a never-ending interest in the links that connect the psyche with physical health. Scorpionic energy is very “cyclic” so with reference to Hygeia the individual will undergo cycles of ill and good health during the lifetime particularly in the area of sexual health and procreation.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Marc Edmund Jones PhD, the Dean of American Astrology, had Hygeia in Scorpio in the 12th House. Jones was an astrological innovator whose work was dedicated to finding competent rather than superficial answers to the problems of life. Jones brought a good deal of in-depth psychology (Scorpio/12th) to astrology through his masterful research and study in order to ease and balance the human condition through a healthy understanding (Hygeia) of personal motivation.

Read more about Dr. Marc Edmund Jones in the 9th GATE under Psychic Receptivity.

<HYGEIA IN SAGITTARIUS>

Individuals with Hygeia in Sagittarius tend to have a global view of health and like to see how health fits into the big picture. Those who become educated in the medical or health fields often teach or lecture. They are often highly visionary and must be careful to keep their health wisdom grounded in truth and practicality.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: Dr. Phil (McGraw), the media's psychological health guru has Hygeia in Sagittarius in a stellium with Chiron and the asteroid Ceres (a total visionary healing package!). His Hygeian energy is very busy being influenced by a square from the Sun (EGO/Health needs in action but a tendency to get carried away at times as evidenced by his 2003 attempt to sell weight loss products that ended in a lawsuit), trines from Venus and Pluto (the power to transform through love and social interaction), a semi-sextile from Mars (pioneering action) and a sextile from Neptune (supportive service and the media). The popular TV show The Doctors which doles out daily health and medical advice was created by Dr. Phil.

<HYGEIA IN CAPRICORN>

Those with natal Hygeia in Capricorn often seek wisdom about personal and global health issues. They are willing to put long hard hours into serious study and research until solutions are found. This position is often seen in the charts of doctors, health officials or health authorities.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: The first successful human to human heart transplant performed by Dr. Christiaan Barnard took place on December 3, 1967 in Cape Town, South Africa. On that day transiting Hygeia was in the sign of Capricorn (health wisdom based upon experience) and by aspect was in an out of sign conjunction with Mars in Aquarius (high tech surgery). It was being trined (ease of action) by transiting Uranus and Pluto conjoined in Virgo (transformative and innovative health processes) and sextiled (opportunity) by Neptune in Scorpio (ultimate healing from the deepest levels). Hygeia squared the transiting Nodal Axis that day indicating this procedure action affected mass destiny.

<HYGEIA IN AQUARIUS>

Those with Hygeia in Aquarius tend to be concerned about the health of the planet and are interested in modern advances in health, medicine and ecology. On a personal level they enjoy keeping fit with friends and tend to join fitness and/or sports groups.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: One of history's greatest benefactors of humanity, Louis Pasteur had natal Hygeia in Aquarius. He solved the mysteries of rabies, anthrax, chicken cholera, and silkworm diseases, and contributed to the development of the first vaccines (Hygeia is a ruler of vaccines along with Neptune). Pasteur also coined the word virus which means poison. He is best known for 'Pasteurization', which prevents milk and wine from going sour. Pasteur's Hygeia is conjoined with the North Node indicating that his research and finding would be tied to his destiny and to the destiny of the world-at-large. Other aspects include semi-sextiles to the Sun and Venus (notoriety for his work), a trine to Jupiter (scientific advances), a square to Saturn (sound findings through dedicated work) and a sextile to Pluto (opportunities through research and experimentation).

<HYGEIA IN PISCES>

The spiritual health and physical maintenance of the world is most important to the person with this placement of natal Hygeia. These individuals can see the links between physical and spiritual health and are more than willing to put themselves into service so they can to share these insights with everyone. A well aspected Hygeia Pisces can even produce a global leader whose aim is preservation of natural resources. On the personal level, Hygeia in Pisces can indicate that there will bouts of illness in the hospital during the lifetime.

Hygeian Hall of Fame: According to famous Forest Conservationist Julia Butterfly-Hill, "The common thread humanity shares is that we are all children of the Earth. We all need clean air and water for our survival. We are all planetary citizens, and the ancient trees are living, breathing elders that remind us to respect and honor that which we cannot replace." This sentiment is well described by her natal Hygeia in Pisces conjunct Mercury and sextiled by the Moon and semi-sextiled by Chiron (public servant and spokesperson reminding the children of Earth that they alone are responsible for maintaining clean conditions so the future can be preserved. By doing less we only hurt ourselves. Less hygiene means more filth and dis-ease).

HYGEIA IN THE NATAL HOUSES

HYGEIA IN THE 1ST HOUSE

Individuals with Hygeia in the 1st House are always cognizant of how they are feeling health wise on a daily level. They always seek out new ways to improve their health and general well-being. Some with Hygeia in the 1st House suffer from childhood illness and these experiences teach them the importance of 'body balance' while others live in an early environment where being 'seen' as healthy was promoted. Those with a 1st House Hygeia should avoid a rash use of physical energy which could lead to depletion. They must learn moderation in order to insure good health.

Hygeian locations associated with the 1st House: Gyms, public health centers, health product manufacturers.

Possible health issues associated with the 1st House: complexion and diseases of the face, physical constitution, cravings, eye problems, halitosis (bad breath), and skull.

HYGIEIA IN THE 2ND HOUSE

The general energetic nature of the 2nd House constitutes a desire to prove self-worth and when Hygeia is found here self-esteem is often linked to health. When the individual becomes obsessed with proving or marketing the Self a great deal of strain is placed on the body physically and mentally. Poor eating habits ranging from neglect of eating to gluttony are common. There is also some propensity to consume food high in carbohydrates and sugars. Those with Hygeia in the 2nd House need to take time out for relaxation, rest and above all just be themselves. If so inclined, some with this placement will earn money as a healer.

Hygeian locations associated with the 2nd House: Financial institutions that offer health savings accounts, public health gardens and places of relaxation.

Possible health issues associated with the 2nd House: ears, general metabolism, neck and glands, throat and vocal chords.

HYGIEIA IN THE 3RD HOUSE

Those with Hygeia in the 3rd House can experience adverse bodily reactions to environmental stress. Their nerves are most likely to suffer from mundane pressures so mental health is featured in their lives. They have a great interest in the links between the mind and body and like to study health issues.

Hygeian locations associated with the 3rd House: meditative atmospheres, bookstores or libraries specializing in literature (books and magazines) about general health, wellness and diet, health distribution centers, health education centers, health publishers, health organizations that offer body prosthetics.

Possible health issues associated with the 3rd House: arms, asthma, collarbones, fingers and fingernails, dexterity and movement, hands (fractures and ailments), nervous system and reflexes, perception problems, shoulders (fractures and ailments), vocal organ disorders.

HYGEIA IN THE 4TH HOUSE

Early conditioning can affect how 4th House Hygeians maintain their health when they become adults. Negative childhood conditioning can cause repressed issues that can manifest as chronic health problems in middle life (ages 42-49). As adults, health is often linked to domestic conditions and disruptions on the home front can trigger illness. Often those with this placement become overly concerned for the health of their family members.

Hygeian locations associated with the 4th House: Environmental clean-up and maintenance organizations, home sanitation companies, areas of organic crop agriculture (testing institutes and organic crop farms), landscaped self-rehabilitation gardens or orchards, female health organizations that offer prosthetics (i.e. breast prosthetics).

Possible health issues associated with the 4th House: chest and breasts, disorders of digestive organs and juices, physical strength, stomach disorders, afflictions of the uterus and womb.

HYGEIA IN THE 5TH HOUSE

Self-acceptance is the key to good health for those with Hygeia in the 5th House. The 5th House is traditionally the House of Love and represents the need to feel love and be accepted from those around them. Too much emotional expenditure in the pursuit of 'love' can result in health problems if those 'need' are not met satisfactorily. Learning to love the Self first lessens chaos and promotes wellbeing. 5th House Hygeians like to strategize plans on how to stay healthy. They may have hobbies and pastimes connected to health and will spend time planning healthy diets and creative exercise programs for their children.

Hygeian locations associated with the 5th House: Spas, resorts that promote health programs and relaxation.

Possible health issues associated with the 5th House: upper half and sides of the back, back of the shoulders, birth control and conception, heart (diseases and ailments), pregnancy and procreation, promiscuity, sexual intercourse.

HYGEIA IN THE 6TH HOUSE

In traditional astrology, the 6th House is directly concerned with health matters. Health can be a problem for those with Hygeia in the 6th House and it is often necessary to develop a sound daily regimen. A prominent issue is lack of self-esteem which is based on feelings of guilt. As the 6th House is also the House of Service, those with Hygeia placed here often feel they are not doing enough for others and the price they pay for 'approval' is illness because they have ignored their own needs. The lack of proper balance of priorities can lead to excessive nervousness, intestinal disorders and sugar problems. When balance is achieved and if Hygeia is well aspected, this position can also produce a great healer for example - Dr. Christiaan Barnard the first surgeon to successfully perform a human to human heart transplant had Hygeia in the 6th in Sagittarius a global sign.

Hygeian locations associated with the 6th House: Public hygiene facilities, sanitation companies, healing/sick rooms, massage therapy centers, health centers that offer free vaccines, products and information to the public, dental hygiene offices.

Possible health issues associated with the 6th House: the abdomen, assimilation of food, bowels, diets, intestines and intestinal afflictions, physical weakness.

HYGEIA IN THE 7TH HOUSE

Psychology plays an important role when Hygeia is posited in the 7th House because self-identification may be lacking. Traditionally the 7th House is the House of Relationships and Teamwork where 'reliance' is placed upon another or others in order to feel secure and happy. Too much co-dependence can bring about imbalances in the form of emotional and mental stress. In some cases a spouse may suffer ill health and require nurturing and personal care <or vice versa> so the role of caregiver is one of the manifestations of Hygeia in the 7th House. When working positively, Hygeia in the 7th House can also indicate sharing physical fitness regimes with others as a healthy outlet.

Hygeian locations associated with the 7th House: National and International health organizations, social events that promote health consciousness.

Possible health issues associated with the 7th House: lower half of back, flanks of the body (sides), buttocks, haunches, kidney diseases and afflictions, loins, ovaries.

HYGEIA IN THE 8TH HOUSE

This is a difficult posit for Hygeia. The 8th House represents strong psychological ramifications that can and will deteriorate physical health via chronic ailments that can take a long time to manifest and heal. There is however the ability to persevere and a desire to study in order to understand the hidden undercurrents of health. If poorly aspected, Hygeia in this house can also suggest a morbid fascination with death and/or suicidal tendencies. Sexual health can also be an issue. When positively aspected Hygeia in the can suggest an ability for psychiatry or psychological counseling/therapy, medical diagnostics and research.

Hygeian locations associated with the 8th House: Medicare offices, psychiatrist/psychologist offices, fertility clinics, women's health organizations, sex health organizations, medical research labs (especially those specializing in vaccines/immunizations and cures which promote longevity).

Possible health issues associated with the 8th House: the bladder, generative system, muscular system and tissue, psychic disturbances, sex organs.

HYGEIA IN THE 9TH HOUSE

Of all the house placements of Hygeia, the 9th House placement is the least likely to have health problems because of strong belief in a Higher Divine Power or in the power of the Higher Mind to heal the body. Conversely, a personal negative attitude about the power to heal can bring on health issues physical, emotional and mental. Individuals with this posit of Hygeia are often interested in global health issues and may also enjoy studying topics about the health of the planet. They might also write, lecture, publish or teach about these subjects or travel abroad to work in health, preservation or ecology.

Hygeian locations associated with the 9th House: Foreign health organizations, science/ health publishers, health ministries, global Earth preservation organizations, "Green" societies, medical colleges and graduate schools.

Possible health issues associated with the 9th House: hepatic system, hips, upper legs, liver, thighs, and sciatic nerves.

HYGEIA IN THE 10TH HOUSE

The 10h House is most associated with societal pressures and the need to achieve and when Hygeia has challenging aspects while posited in this house there can be difficulty with relaxation and time out for rest. If so, then repressed pressure overtime can result in chronic ailments that generally manifest in middle age.

When Hygeia lies close to the Midheaven the individual's life direction or career may be linked with health. In some cases, personal health will affect career causing restrictions.

Hygeian locations associated with the 10th House: All personally owned and operated businesses associated with health and wellness, government, civic or state operated health facilities and centers, Chiropractic practices.

Possible health issues associated with the 10th House: bones and skeletal system, joints.

HYGEIA IN THE 11TH HOUSE

Like the 9th House, the 11th House is another posit where Hygeia is least associated with health issues with the exception of possible stress when personal hopes and wishes are not fulfilled. There is generally a commitment to fitness preferably in a group or club setting especially with friends in attendance. There may also be strong interest in alternative health organizations.

Hygeian locations associated with the 11th House: Health and fitness clubs, ecological maintenance organizations, alternative healing centers such as Crystal healing and Reiki facilities and hypnotherapy centers.

Possible health issues associated with the 11th House: calves of the legs, lower legs, ankles, shins.

HYGEIA IN THE 12TH HOUSE

Like the 6th House, the 12th House is also directly concerned with health matters. When Hygeia is posited in the 12th House, psychological manifestations as well as psychic manifestations are possible. Often feelings are hidden in the subconscious mind and a build-up of negativity such as jealousy, envy and hatred of others and self-hatred can lead to physical illness. There is also a strong link to Karma and old residual memories that if negative will manifest as ailments and illness. It is difficult to ignore the message of Hygeia when it is placed in this house. As the 12th House is the polarity of the 6th House, natural healers are also indicated and the ability to heal is often a past life talent brought to the fore.

Hygeian locations associated with the 12th House: Rest homes, hospitals, sanitariums, meditation labyrinths, health charities, pharmaceutical companies specializing in vaccines/immunizations.

Possible health issues associated with the 12th House: drug addiction, feet and toes (deformities and ailments), physical handicaps, institutionalization, obsessions, self-injury.

Chiron is known in most astrological circles as the “wounded healer.” According to mythology he was one of the greatest physicians, teachers and martial artists to have ever lived. He instructed most of mythology’s greats like Hercules, Achilles, Jason and Asclepius (aka Ophiuchus) teaching them not only superior fighting skills but also wisdom and the art of healing.

In mythology, Chiron was the son of Cronus and the nymph Philyra. Philyra wanted nothing to do with Cronus who had the nasty habit of devouring his offspring so she changed herself into a mare and tried to flee her fate. Cronus however was wise to her ruse so he changed himself into a horse, pursued her and mated with her. The result was Chiron, a centaur and the first of his kind – half human and half horse. Dismayed and disgusted by his sight she begged the gods to change her into something else so she would not have to mother such a monstrous child. They obliged turning her into a linden tree. Chiron, newly abandoned was found by the revered Sun god Apollo who raised him and taught him many skills including music, prophecy, wisdom and healing. In some mythological accounts, Chiron also gained wisdom from the goddess Athene when she laid her hand on his forehead imbuing him with foresight. Certainly his early abandonment was enough to create a serious psychological “wound” but the most widely accepted version of how Chiron became the “wounded healer” comes from the story concerning the Centaurs and Hercules. The Centaurs had invited the legendary hero to dine with them but a fight broke out between them. During the fray, Chiron was accidentally struck by one of Hercules’s poison arrows causing him continued agony from which he could not recover and this is how he earned his name of the “wounded healer.”

Technically, Chiron is planetoid (actually considered a captured comet) but it has taken on such prominence in astrological delineation over the years that it is very nearly considered a planet. Chiron lies between the planets Saturn and Uranus and is sometimes considered the ‘bridge’ between the two. The meaning of Chiron’s presence in an astrological chart is in essence two fold. Emotionally and physically it describes the “wound” (often times self-inflicted) we are to self-heal in order to find our true path. This refers to the area where all experience the greatest pain and fear. This process that takes great courage because the requirement is to explore the “wound” before healing can be attempted. To accomplish total healing one must open up to spiritual truths and allow the Self to be transformed by them. Secondarily Chiron’s indicates personal healing abilities that can be used to heal and teach others. Most astrologers accept Chiron as a co-ruler of the sign Sagittarius while others feel he is associated with the sign of Virgo. By transit, progression, solar arc or midpoint Chiron can be associated with chronic and severe health crisis usually accompanied by the activation of Kundalini energy.

Chiron rules healers in general, astrologers using transformative astrology, those using divinatory skills and archetypal counseling (such as Tarot etc.), ecologists, hospice counselors, gurus, guides, and people using their hands as a focal for their work such as Reiki healers, palmists and even hairdressers. Chiron also rules all alternative, homeopathic and herbal medicine, medical channeling/intuition, energy healing, therapies and attunements particularly the “chiro”-practic, crystal healing, access to the subtle realms of consciousness including holographic sight and multidimensional perception, near death experiences, metaphysical teachers and researchers, all holistic disciplines accompanied by pragmatic thought processes, and all forms of divination, particularly those engaged by “destiny” mentors.

“THE PROS AND CONS OF CHIRON THROUGH THE SIGNS”

YES = Highest and desired manifestation

NO = That which needs to be overcome

Rx = Chiron retrograde indicating possible Past Life Residual that requires healing

You can identify the sign Chiron occupied at your birth by using the data grid following this Sign and House information. House placement will require a natal horoscope.

ARIES:

YES= A “quantum leap” type of mentor/teacher/maverick who is oriented towards pioneering methodology or advanced holistics in order to be of service to humanity. The search for identity and self-realization is paramount and starts very early in life.

NO= The sense of “being” has been violated in some way (usually during childhood) resulting in fear of self-assertion. Over-compensation occurs by attempting to be the “first” at everything or taking on the role of “savior” to others. The role of self-imposed “loner” feels safe yet is ultimately self-defeating. Physically, the individual may suffer head wounds throughout life.

Rx = You have spent many past lives switching from one gender to another trying to recognize who you are and what you should be doing and why you should be doing it. The residual carried over is one of “wounded identity.” How you “see” others and how they view is part of the problem so issues with sight and hearing can present as physical manifestation.

CROSS SECTION OF FAMOUS PEOPLE WITH CHIRON IN ARIES: The father of psychology Carl Jung, the great seer Edgar Cayce, magician Harry Houdini, medical pioneer Dr. Christian Barnard, writers Carlos Castenada and Kurt Vonnegut, occultist Aleister Crowley, humanitarian Dr. Albert Schweitzer, educator Maria Montessori, actors Leonardo DiCaprio, Marlon Brando and Paul Newman, entertainer Liberace, writer and film/TV producer Gene Rodenberry of Star Trek fame, producer/screenwriter Aaron Spelling, chemist and microbiologist Louis Pasteur, writer Truman Capote and Jules Verne, soccer player David Beckham, politician and spiritual leader Mohandas Gandhi.

TAURUS:

YES= Value is a state of mind rather than a price tag. The individual will learn to rely on life and the body's experiences in order to find higher meaning. Healing comes through trusting the instinctual wisdom of the body. Can be a talented contributor to the culture of humanity.

NO= Morality has a price tag. The individual will experience a crisis of values and a lack of self-worth. Overcompensation is achieved by accruing money and possessions. Often distrusts the body or feels that the body is not beautiful or even ugly. Sometimes uncontrollable sexual magnetism and/or bizarre sexual habits exist.

Rx= In past lives you suffered poverty – you were either born into a destitute family OR in more productive lives where you made money and acquired material success you lost it all. The residual carried over is one of “wounded self-worth.” “Speaking up” for oneself and “shouldering blame” is part of the issue so possible physical problems with the throat and shoulders are possible.

CROSS SECTION OF FAMOUS PEOPLE WITH CHIRON IN TAURUS: Guru Baba Ram Dass, astrological researcher Michel Gauquelin, Martin Luther King Jr., Fidel Castro, actress and politician Shirley Temple Black, actors James Dean and Clint Eastwood, choreographer Bob Fosse, correspondent Dan Rather, composer Stephen Sondheim, anchorwoman and interviewer Barbara Walters, spy and prostitute Mata Hari, royal Prince William, artist Pablo Picasso, pop artist Andy Warhol, genius Albert Einstein, scientist Alexander Fleming, polymath Robert Hooke, writer and actress Maya Angelou, tennis player Venus Williams.

GEMINI:

YES= The individual often possess the ability to tap into universal or spiritually creative ideas. This signature easily produces “natural” teachers and communicators who are able to instruct in a grand way reaching a wide audience.

A great placement for therapists who are also involved in innovative mind research. Prophecy and mediumship are common as are originality and genius.

NO= The individual may not trust personal thought processes or may fear communicating with others. This is generally based in communication problems as a child or painful experiences in early schooling where information was absorbed in a scattered and fragmented manner leading to disassociation of thought and marred delivery. Conversely, in some cases, intellectual arrogance is a problem.

Rx= In lives past you may have been physically disabled or mute which made it difficult for you to communicate successfully with others. The residual carried over can manifest as obsessions or compulsive disorders to perfect the intellect and/or anything you create with your mind or hands. Since the art of communication requires air in the lungs to assist speech there may be physical distress to pulmonary function.

CANCER:

YES= Attuned to the past and deeply sensitive, the self truly believes in what the self is doing using intuition as a guide. Will intuitively know how to care for family members and loved ones for their highest good.

NO= There is a strong issue of “belonging” and the individual often feels unsure especially within the family unit. This may stem from a painful relationship with the father or basic insecurity needs attached to the mother, or perhaps another painful experience in the home. Physically, the stomach may be the vulnerable part of the body.

Rx = You spent some past lifetimes as homeless and wretched. In some cases you were born an orphan and in other cases you were disowned by your family. The residual may manifest as a strong desire to receive caring and nurturing. The

LEO:

YES= A noble and inspirational soul who desires to bring others to new heights. Knowing there is a special path in life to achieved but able to conquer self-importance by using the power of the ego for a higher purpose. The individual may become a creative teacher or therapist who recognizes the Divine spark in each person.

NO= Self-esteem is tied to recognition and attention. The childhood experience of having fun, spontaneity and/or being creative may have been stifled or repressed leading to feelings of inadequacy which in turn produce overcompensation of pride and hypersensitivity to ridicule. Some with this position suffer child bearing problems.

Rx = Your creative spark was stomped out in past lives leaving you broken hearted and in despair. Current life problems might manifest as physical issues with the heart and back because you feel you lack "support" and possible depression.

CROSS SECTION OF FAMOUS PEOPLE WITH CHIRON IN LEO: Beatles John Lennon Paul McCartney and George Harrison, singer/songwriters Carole King and Paul Simon, writer J.R.R. Tolkien, martial artist and actor Bruce Lee, actors Harrison Ford and Joe Pesci, country singer Tammy Wynette, "the greatest" Muhammad Ali, writers Michael Crichton and Edna St. Vincent Millay, chessmaster Bobby Fischer.

VIRGO:

YES= All things Virgoan lend themselves to critical attention to details and when Chiron is in Virgo the manifestation is a keen ability of discrimination to size up "human" situations and therefore there is a strong tie to the mind/body/spirit concept of healing. Of all sign placements, this posit knows the true meaning of taking care of the body ... “heal thyself” ... and will take aggressive action when problems occur. The title “humane healer” is well deserved so work in the caring professions and/or teaching are stellar avenues.

NO = The need for emotional control can become detrimental leading to physical health problems. In some cases the individual will hide from emotions by keeping “busy” with mundane chores and situations. Physically there can be problems with the intestines or reproductive sterility. Compulsions can also be an issue.

Rx = You were not only responsible for your survival in past lives but also the lives of those close to you. You might have been a doctor or healer who was not satisfied with the quality and quantity of the help you were able to give. The residual includes “forgiveness syndrome” which affects the process of “assimilation” in the body.

CROSS SECTION OF FAMOUS PEOPLE WITH CHIRON IN VIRGO: Actors Michael Douglas, Danny DeVito, Rutger Hauer and Dakota Fanning, rock singer Mick Jagger, philosopher Friederich Nietzsche, tennis champion Billy Jean King, evangelist and actor Marjoe Gortner, singer Julio Iglesias, guru Paramahansa Yogananda, boxer Joe Frazier.

LIBRA:

YES= Gifted at forming relationships with others because the soul is able to reconcile differences and recognize others as carrying an equal Divine spark. Libran diplomacy and tact are taken to the next level so these individuals excel in human dynamics often making fine archetypal or psychoanalytic counselors or simply over-a-cup-of-coffee therapists. They often find themselves at the center of conflict with others but manage to come out unscathed because they fully understand that the greatest healing comes from trusting the process.

NO= Too susceptible to matters of injustice which can easily lead to victimization. Failure to “see” the faults in the “self” that are presented by the “mirror” image of others. Crisis prone. Good at setting people up and metaphorically “giving them enough rope to hang themselves.”

Rx = In past lives you experienced painful separations from your beloved. You suffered injustice and may have been exiled or secluded in some way preventing you from experiencing the everyday joy of closeness with your soul mate and cadre group. This left you devastated and out of balance. Physical residual issues can occur via problems with the kidneys since you will be filtering out current life “toxins” of prejudice and hatred.

CROSS SECTION OF FAMOUS PEOPLE WITH CHIRON IN LIBRA:

Ophiuchus, the Serpent Bearer has been coined by some as the thirteenth sign of the Zodiac. It is a real constellation that lies between the constellation of Scorpio the Scorpion and Sagittarius the Archer. It is an Ancient Greek constellation that can be historically dated back to the time of Claudius Ptolemy, the Father of Astrology. By way of explanation in order to clarify doubt about a “13th sign”, most astrologers use what is known as the Tropical Zodiac which consists of twelve 30 degree signs that originate with the Vernal Equinox. These twelve “signs” have the same name as the constellations but that’s where the similarity ends. The 4th century B.C. Babylonians invented the 360° circle and the twelve 30° signs of the Zodiac which were properly called the Fixed Zodiac. The Babylonians also invented planetary and solar and lunar tables in order to be able to calculate “positions.” In the 2nd century A.D. Ptolemy adopted the Tropical Zodiac (originally invented by Hipparchus in the 2nd century B.C.) to calculate his solar, lunar planetary and star tables. Around 300 A.D. astrologers began using the Tropical Zodiac and continue to use it to this day. This is why the astrological Tropical Zodiac has only twelve signs and does not include Ophiuchus as an actual Zodiac sign.

The Sun enters the constellation of Ophiuchus every year between November 30th and December 17th. Those born during this time span are believed to harbor innate healing abilities. If you were born during this time span and feel strongly that you are a healer, you can add these ‘possible qualities’ to those of your Sagittarius Sun Sign!

THE OPHIUCHAN INFLUENCE

November 30 – Those born on this day can be best described as iconoclastic by nature doing everything their own way. They believe in simplicity when it comes to health and healing and are sometimes interested in a vegan diet. In a healing venue, November 30th Ophiuchans tend to function solo and are very dedicated healers who believe strongly in the “power of humor.” They are effective healers of children and young adults.

December 1 – This Ophiuchan vibe has strong leanings towards holistic and herbal medicine. Reiki facilitation and those who specialize in chakra adjustment and aura cleansing are found among Ophiuchans born on this day. Sports medicine and therapy are traditional paths for December 1st Ophiuchans.

December 2 – December 2nd Ophiuchans believe in the pursuit of happiness. When they are not happy they often feel it in their physical bodies as general malaise. They also believe in the power of positivity and make good spiritual speakers and life coaches especially if the lecture circuit includes travel.

December 3 – Long life is the goal of this Ophiuchan. Keeping fit and active is very important although there is some tendency to put on weight. Those born this day are very good at seeing the big picture and tend to be both good talkers and listeners. Counseling is the forte of this placement.

December 4 – This is the placement of extremes and there can be fanaticism about maintaining good health OR conversely there can be great carelessness regarding it. Those born on this day however do believe that attitude is everything and they are quite remarkable at handling others. Besides people, they also have a great love of animals and their innate psychic talents make them excellent animal whisperers or more traditionally excellent veterinarians.

December 5 – Those born on this day tend to have good health BUT they also tend to have bad habits. There is plenty of nervous energy and consequently they learn the most through tough life experiences that they have brought upon themselves. Relaxation techniques are of great benefit to them which they like to share with others. Yoga instruction is a good for this Ophiuchan.

December 6 – This Ophiuchan is into total balance of mind, body and spirit and can do well in any holistic venue making an actual career out of healing and/or helping others. Traditionally speaking they make wonderful medical doctors with a bedside manner to match.

December 7 – Ophiuchans born this day tend to be interested in Eastern Practices. They are natural Reiki practitioners and acupuncturists if they so choose to pursue these venues. They are also knowledgeable about body detox and place great importance on a clean environment.

December 8 – “Feeling good” is the motto of individuals born this day. They tend to be a bit renegade when it comes to physical health and take advantage of it but they do believe strongly that stress and tension are the biggest obstacles to good health. A good night’s sleep and maintaining low blood pressure is the goal of this Ophiuchan. Since personal integrity tops their list of priorities they can be trusted and make good counselors.

December 9 – This is generally considered a hearty placement. The individual believes in a positive attitude and a good daily physical maintenance program. They tend to make good physical therapists, exercise instructors and health teachers.

December 10 – This is the placement of physical fitness bar none. There is a great love of the outdoors and all types of outdoor exercise. Despite all this physicality, this Ophiuchan will take time out daily for spiritual nourishment garnered through meditation and reflection. Sports medicine can be their forte.

December 11 – Once they have learned from experience how to break bad eating habits, these Ophiuchans become icons of vitality. If they the chance to heal someone else’s emotional or physical pain by giving them the benefit of their own experience they will quickly step up to the plate. There is often an interest in the medical field or health associated volunteer work.

December 12 – Competitive by nature, those born on this day literally seem to be in perpetual motion. Fast challenging sports seems to be their forte. They tend to be better talkers than listeners and make good inspirational speakers healing others with their positivity about life.

December 13 – Health maintenance is a series of lifetime trial and errors.

December 13 Ophiuchans have an interest in everything from exercise to nutrition often experimenting with whatever has their attention at the time. Once they get a handle on whatever health venue they have decided to pursue and study and a balance is achieved, their wisdom about a chosen health subject tend to be very profound. When they gain a level of expertise they make good health lecturers and teachers.

December 14 – Generally robust when it comes to health those born on this day tend to look beyond traditional means to enhance health. They are often interested in various forms of energy healing and like to compare the old methods with new visions regarding healing. Crystal healing, chakra balancing and aura cleansing hold particular interest for these Ophiuchans.

December 15 – Those born this day tend to have an interest in a proper diet usually based upon serious food issues they have overcome. Those who have learned to properly appreciate the value of good nutrition make excellent dieticians.

December 16 – Oddly enough those born on this day are not overly concerned about health maintenance. They are reluctant to exercise unless they get “emotional satisfaction” from it - for example – hiking a serene mountain trail or walking on a beach at sunset. Because they tend to be tuned into nature and the peaceful joys of simple things they make good listeners and counselors.

December 17 -Testing physical endurance is the goal of those born on this day. Exercise in any form, the tougher the better, is the golden key to happiness. They make great weight trainers and health coaches. If they can attune to their spiritual side through some Soul Searching they make wonderful empathetic counselors and touch therapists.

The healing qualities of Ophiuchus are not just restricted to this elite Sagittarian group. An individual can also be imbued with healing traits if the main star of Ophiuchus, the Fixed Star Ras Alhague, is making a connection to their natal chart. Astrologers who work with Fixed Stars check to see if a chart is influenced by these heavenly bodies by observing if there is heliacal rising and setting, parans with planets and culminations to pivotal points of the chart. Please consult a professional astrologer who works with Fixed Stars and collective archetypes if you are interested in this type of information. (By definition, the term paran refers to the simultaneous rising, setting or crossing of the meridian of planets and/or stars via the observer's latitude. It is strictly a visual process and is dependent upon the location of the observer when viewing the sky by eye. The term heliacal rising means "rising with the Sun." This occurs when a planet or a star, after it has been hidden by the Sun's rays, becomes again visible. The term heliacal setting refers to when a star is overtaken by the Sun and is lost in its rays. The Heliacal rising or setting of the Moon occurs when it is within 17° of the Sun; other stars and planets, when within 30° distance.) Astrologers using good astrological software programs have Fixed Star information readily available.

The original constellation of Ophiuchus (who is also known to the Greeks as Serpentarius the Healer and to the Romans as Asclepius) is actually broken up into two constellations – Ophiuchus, the serpent holder or handler and Serpens, the large snake in his grasp. Since the serpent appears on both side of Ophiuchus, it too has been divided into Serpens Caput (the head) and Serpens Cauda (the tail). In general, the serpent is a very ancient cultural healing symbol and represents, among other things, revitalization and transformation through discretion and sagacity - all of which are akin to the ancient premise of "shedding old skin" and rebirth. Ophiuchus learned his healing skills under the wise tutelage of Chiron and his influence can be felt in all types of healing from physical to spiritual to social and even political. At any rate, the individual is inclined to "give healing." According to Fixed Star expert Bernadette Brady, the physiological correspondence of Ophiuchus is "the lymphatic system as the defender of the internal body."

For those who have been advised that Ras Alhague (pronounced RAS al- hay- gwee) is present in their natal chart here are a few general meanings:

Heliacal Rising: An innately gifted healer who is drawn to healing professions or healing philosophies and who will take definitive action to bring forth solutions and remedies.

Heliacal Setting: A seeker of yin-yang who must heal the "Self" first before becoming proactive and reaching out to others.

Paran with the Sun: A "people person" who is greatly interested in human nature and desires to reach a wide audience in order to bring healing information to the masses.

Paran with the Moon: A natural counselor who is not afraid to probe the hidden and even darker corners of life in order to bring light and relief to others.

Paran with Mercury: An investigator and/or spokesperson who is interested in bringing the latest health findings and discoveries to the fore.

Paran with Venus: A teacher of expanded consciousness who is interested in expanding healing knowledge on a grand scale. Note that in esoteric studies Venus is the most occult and highly revered planet arcanus.

Paran with Mars: A difficulty specialist, activist and leader desirous of problem solving that bring healthful benefits to others.

Paran with Jupiter: An optimist who has a plethora of information to offer as solutions so the lives of others can be enhanced and joyful. The phrase “be lightful so you can be healthful” well describes this person’s philosophy.

Paran with Saturn: A record keeper who understands the importance of “informational” legacy and its effect not only generationally but also collectively to attempt to secure the future of a healthy human race.

Paran with Uranus: A health event planner or volunteer worker who believes in charities and movements to save the people and the planet.

Paran with Neptune: A spiritualist who heals through artistic or creative endeavor in order to reach and influence others. The individual generally has strong opinions about what is harmful under a helpful guise (such as drugs or health fads) and speaks out against them.

Paran with Pluto: A researcher who delves into the sacred matters of prolonging life and health. There is often a strong interest in natural remedies.

Paran with North Node: Destiny is influenced by the seeking of balance and moderation. Deference to the South Node – A past life dedicated to the art of healing (particular modality partially indicated by South Node indicators).
